

George and Martha Washington A Love Story

Today, we often see America's first "First Couple" as old people in formal portraits. However, at the start of the American Revolution, George and Martha Washington were a vibrant couple in their 40s. They had a strong and loving relationship, and were married for more than 40 years.

During the Revolutionary War, Martha joined her husband every winter in camp so that she could provide the support and warmth he needed to maintain his morale. Observers of the couple noted that their relationship was "one of tenderness and respect."

In this presentation you'll learn about this important couple as well as the people who helped them achieve all that they did. Hear about how they met, and about their marriage, their families, their responsibilities, and, of course, their love.

Presented by Alisa Dupuy and Curt Radabaugh

Seating is limited so please arrive early,

Yardley-Makefield Library
Saturday, March 22
2 to 3 p.m.

BOOKS
GIVE US
WINGS

Sponsored by
Friends of Yardley-Makefield Library
1080 Edgewood Road, Yardley, PA 19067
Tel: 215-493-9020
www.YMFriends.org